

2nd Annual Best Practices Learning
Symposium for Developmental Educators
April 9, 2010
William Rainey Harper College

CALL FOR PROPOSALS

If you are an educator who wishes to share an institutional best practice, original research, or innovative project that relates to developmental education, we want to hear from you.

This year's theme, "Strategic Pathways in Learning: Shifting the Paradigm" represents our desire to re-examine our philosophical underpinnings regarding developmental education and consider the systemic changes needed so that all students may enter college prepared for success.

To submit your proposal online and/or register for the symposium, please click here.

Proposal submissions must be received by January 31, 2010. An email confirmation regarding the status of your proposal will be sent by February 2010. All presenters must register for the symposium.
