

10 DAYS IN CUBA

Race, Class, and the Revolutionary Spirit

THE ITINERARY

Sugarcane Field | Havana El Malecon | Capitol Building | Havana Castle of the Royal Force | Playa Giron Museum | Ancon Beach | Topes de Collantes | Tobacco Farms | Casa Particulares | Live Music | Trinidad History Museum

FEE: $2,890*

*Fee doesn't include tuition and airfare

TRAVEL DATES:

March 21 to 30, 2024

COURSES:

English 102 and
History 121

LEARN MORE

COURSE DESCRIPTION (ENG 102 AND HST 121)

This study abroad program is part of a Learning Community that combines two transferable classes: English 102 and History 121. In this program, you will read and write about the history of Latin America, with a focus on Cuba, and its often contentious relationship with the United States. Through assigned readings, essays, and assorted projects, both classes will have a principal focus on our shared theme, "Race, Class, and the Revolutionary Spirit." In addition to achieving the course outcomes for both classes, you will also gain critical and highly valued 21st century skills in critical thinking and analysis, and intercultural communication and awareness through an integrated global learning experience. (Plus, did we mention 10 days in CUBA!!!)

DATES

Course Dates: January 21 - May 16, 2024

Travel Dates: March 21 - 30, 2024

PROGRAM FEE: $2,890*

Includes: accommodation in double room, some of the meals, ground transportation, entrance fees listed in the itinerary, transfer from/to airport at destination, insurance, 24h local support.

*Not included: Harper tuition (6 credits), airfare (approx. $500), passport and visa costs.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

October 15, 2023

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Prof. Richard Johnson, rjohnson@harpercollege.edu | 847-925-6429

Prof. David Richmond, drichmon@harpercollege.edu | 847-925-6845

Angelica Rackow, arackow@harpercollege.edu | 847-925-6436