

Race, Class, and the Revolutionary Spirit

Faculty-Led
STUDY ABROAD PROGRAM TO CUBA

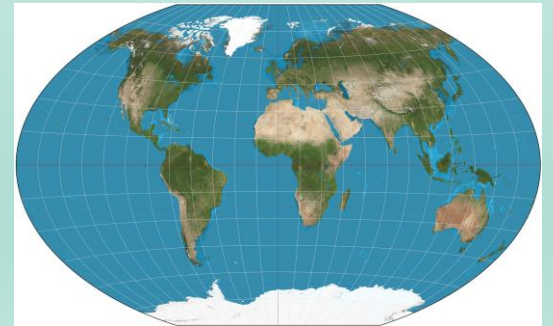

Harper College,
Office of International Education

March 21-30, 2024

Why study abroad?

1. Earn credit while seeing the world
2. Employers love it
3. Enhance your transfer applications
4. Build cultural intelligence
5. Become a global citizen

Advantages of faculty-led programs

1. Most affordable study abroad option
2. Hand picked immersive experiences
3. Safer and more structured
4. Shorter and more convenient
5. Interaction with faculty

Faculty Leaders

Richard Johnson

English/Humanities

Academic Interests

- Intercultural communication
- Global citizenship
- Medieval studies

Personal Interests

- Beekeeping
- Traditional acoustic music

David Richmond

History

Academic Interests

- Minority rights and opportunities
- Economic and political development
- Global perspectives

Personal Interests

- Camping, fishing, hiking
- Travel
- Reading

Tour of Havana

Cathedral Plaza

Visit the babalawo

Drumming Demonstration

Cienfuegos Yacht Club

Woman Posing for Trinidad Tourists

Sugarcane field in Cuba

Fusterlandia

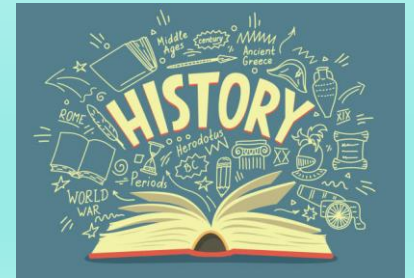

Course Credit

Subject Areas:

- English Composition II
- History of Latin America

Courses:

- ENG 102 and HST 121

COST

Program Fee: $2,290 - $2,890

Includes

- Lodging
- Activities
- Most meals
- Transport
- Guide

Excludes

- Tuition
- Airfare
- Personal expenses
- Some meals
- Passport fees

Scholarship Opportunities!!

<https://www.harpercollege.edu/academics/international/studyabroad.php>

Registration and more information

bit.ly/HarperCuba2024

Instructor Contact Information

Richard Johnson

847.925.6429

rjohnson@harpercollege.edu

Office: L building, room 316

David T. Richmond

847.925.6845

drichmon@harpercollege.edu

Office: J building, room 157